

Bachelor of English Literature

Expert Conversation on Re-Living Literature through Immersive and Interactive Technologies

Friday, 14 August 2020 | 7.00 pm to 8.00 pm
Online session Via MS Teams

Expert for Conversation

Dr. Bryan Carter

Director - Centre for Digital
Humanities & Associate Professor,
Africana Studies
University of Arizona
Tucson, USA

<http://ibryancarter.com/>

Dr. Bryan Carter is the Director, Centre for Digital Humanities, College of Humanities and also an Associate Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Arizona. He has specialized in African American literature of the 20th century with a primary focus on the Harlem Renaissance and a secondary emphasis on digital culture. His research focuses on advanced visualization and how sustained and varied digital communication affects student retention and engagement in literature courses taught both online and face-to-face.